IN-PERSON, VIRTUAL, AND RECORDED EDUCATIONAL PRESENTATIONS BY LAURA STACK, JOHNNY'S MOM

Laura Stack is Johnny Stack's mom and the Founder & CEO of the nonprofit, Johnny's Ambassadors Youth THC Prevention. In the business world, Laura was known by her professional moniker, The Productivity Pro®. For thirty years, she was a Hall-of-Fame professional speaker, corporate spokesperson for many major brands, and bestselling author of eight previous books on employee productivity.

But then on November 20, 2019, Laura suddenly acquired the undesired wisdom of knowing what it's like to lose one's child. Her 19-year-old son, Johnny, died by suicide after becoming psychotic from dabbing high-potency THC concentrates. He first used marijuana at 14 years old when it became legal in Colorado.

Laura's world took a 180. She filed for and received 501c3 nonprofit status for Johnny's Ambassadors, Inc., with the mission to educate parents, teens, and communities about the dangers of today's high-THC marijuana on adolescent brain development, mental illness, and suicide. She wrote the bestselling book about Johnny's life and death story, The Dangerous Truth About Today's Marijuana: Johnny Stack's Life and Death Story. Described as a woman with unstoppable drive and unwavering purpose, Laura hopes to help other teens, parents, and all adults who work with teens by honestly and boldly sharing Johnny's story of his high-potency marijuana addiction, psychosis, and suicide.

The devastating loss of her child gives Laura a powerful voice and a platform for change. Laura sees it as her responsibility to share Johnny's warning to prevent other families from having to go through what she did and save other young lives from the harms of marijuana. Laura now travels around the U.S. with her husband, John, Johnny's dad, speaking 200+ times a year at school assemblies and conferences on preventing youth THC use.

Laura is the recipient of the Drug-Free America Foundation's Moxie Award for protecting youth from substances, the Leadership in Advocacy Award from the National Speakers Association, and the American Association of Suicidology's Loss Survivor of the Year Award. Johnny's story has been told in People Magazine, the New York Times, the Wall Street Journal, the Epoch Times, the Ingraham Angle, the Untold Story with Martha MacCallum, PBS, and on Dr. Phil.

By sharing Johnny's own warning about his marijuana use, "Marijuana ruined my mind and my life," Laura is determined to start a movement to bring teen THC use into the spotlight and get them to #StopDabbing.

Laura lives with her husband in south Denver, Colorado, and has two surviving adult children, ages 29 and 23.

"Forge ahead despite your pain and give meaning to your loss."

The Dangerous Truth About Today's Marijuana: Johnny Stack's Life and Death Story

Program Description

Laura Stack's 19-year-old son, Johnny, died by suicide on November 20, 2019, after becoming delusional from dabbing high potency THC concentrates. Soon afterward, Laura started a nonprofit organization, Johnny's Ambassadors, to educate parents and teens about the dangers of youth THC use. Before using THC, Johnny was a computer whiz with a 4.0 GPA and a perfect math score on the SAT. Three days before his death, Johnny told his mother, "Marijuana ruined my mind and my life." Through this non-scary, non-sad, science-based data-driven talk, Stack hopes to help teens understand how using high potency THC products (vapes, dab, edibles) can harm them.

Speaker Bio

Laura Stack is Johnny Stack's mom. After her son died by suicide because of his marijuana addiction and resulting psychosis, she now helps teens understand why today's high-potency THC products can cause problems with brain development, mental illness, and suicidality. Before Johnny died, Laura was a speaker and author for 30 years. Now, Laura sees it as her responsibility to share Johnny's warning with other teens to keep them from following Johnny's path. More than anything, Laura wants to help teens understand the science and potential harms of today's marijuana. She is determined to start a movement to get young people to #StopDabbing.

Johnny's Ambassadors Youth THC Prevention Middle and High School Speakers Bureau

These four amazing speakers are available to give THC prevention talks at middle and high school assemblies from 200 to 2,000 students. We typically speak to the entire student body in the gym, or split up the classes in multiple presentations in the auditorium, or travel to several neighboring schools in your district in the same day. Their stories of personal and family THC addiction, mental illness, Cannabis-Induced Psychosis, and recovery will have your students on the edge of their seats and focused on them for the entire hour. Yes, really! They are all certified in Johnny's Ambassadors Youth THC Prevention curriculum and use the same set of content slides with the data and the research, tailoring the stories to their experiences. Read about each speaker at JohnnysAmbassadors.org/bureau and see the outline at johnnysambassadors.org/speaking.

Laura Stack formed the nonprofit Johnny's Ambassadors Youth THC Prevention after her 19-year-old son, Johnny, died by suicide after experiencing Cannabis-Induced Psychosis. Laura travels around the U.S. to educate teens, parents, and prevention professionals about the harms of youth THC use (marijuana, vapes, dabs, edibles) and the impact on addiction, adolescent brain development, mental illness, and suicidality. Laura gives 200 talks a year at middle and high schools and prevention conferences.

Grace Davis, a graduate of the University of Northern Colorado, credits Johnny Stack as a pivotal influence in her decision to complete her degree and quit cannabis. Having experienced cannabis-induced psychosis, she believes her cannabis/THC use contributed to the progression of her bipolar disorder.

Hannah Palmer is a 22-year-old dedicated drug-free advocate focused on promoting healthy lifestyles among young people. With a strong emphasis on the risks associated with marijuana use, she aims to foster a clear understanding of its effects and the benefits of living THC-free.

Brandi Welch is 22 years old and a 2019 graduate of both Tulare Union High School and the Arts, Media, and Entertainment (AME) Academy. Brandi is a recovered Marijuana/THC user with a personal testimony of her own, who is willing to share her story with anyone who will listen.

Use Our Online, Self-Paced THC Prevention Curriculum As a School Suspension Alternative

In recent years, THC levels in marijuana have been rising. This isn't the hippie weed some people remember from the 1960s. It's lab-designed, high-potency, and dangerous for the developing brains of young people. Doctors say new, high-potency marijuana is responsible for a growing number of psychotic episodes among teenage users. Unfortunately many young people believe there's no harm in using marijuana products. They need to be educated about the possible dangers of today's high-THC products for their brains, the development of addiction, and mental illness.

When caught with marijuana at school, teens can take this web-based curriculum as an alternative to suspension. This training is FREE for up to 20 students per month.

This isn't just any ol' boring training! This highly-engaging course uses a colorful, superhero theme with gamification, simulations, music, interactive quizzes, gameshows, hand-drawn whiteboard videos, and peer-to-peer testimonials. The course is built on an innovative, mobile Learning Management System (LMS) and can be taken from any device.

Our innovative online marijuana prevention course is:

- A self-paced, research-based, evidence-informed, direct-to-teen curriculum
- Created by researchers, doctors, and Ph.D. curriculum designers and approved by our Scientific Advisory Board
- Targeted to middle and early high school students (with a parallel track for parents and concerned adults)
- Designed to educate and prevent marijuana use and raise awareness (this is not an intervention)
- Intended to reduce the gap between the perceived and actual harm of marijuana and lower the use.

This is a single-incident curriculum in the drug prevention space and takes about 60 to 90 minutes total, broken up into eight separate modules. It can be taken multiple times as you wish and started and stopped as desired. Students receive a certificate when finished, which they can forward as proof of completion.

Johnny's Ambassadors mission is to educate parents and teens about the dangers of today's high-THC marijuana on the developing adolescent mind and get them to #StopDabbing.

What is dabbing? Dabs are marijuana extracts (shatter, wax, budder are some examples) made by pouring a solvent such as butane, ethanol, propane, or carbon dioxide over marijuana, which allows THC to leave the plant material and dissolve into the solvent. This concentrated THC solution is then filtered and placed in a tray. The result of the extraction is sticky oil that typically appears bronze in color. It's not a plant and is highly potent, containing up to 99% THC. Dabs are typically heated on a hot surface and the vapors are inhaled through a dab rig or dab pen.

The Dangerous Truth About Today's Marijuana Johnny Stack's Life & Death Story

By Laura Stack

With Foreword by Kevin Sabet

ABOUT THE BOOK

This is the poignant life-and-death story of Johnny Stack, whose young and vibrant life ended by suicide after his descent into addiction to high-potency marijuana and cannabis-induced psychosis. You'll laugh and cry with his mother, Laura Stack, as she retells the story of Johnny's joyful childhood and then takes you through the unthinkable tragedy of his loss. It's every parent's nightmare. But this book is much more than Johnny's story. Today Laura, who is a nationally recognized speaker and best-selling author, leads a national effort of parents, impacted family members, healthcare professionals, teachers, and trusted adults who are concerned about the harmful effects of marijuana on our children, teenagers, and emerging adults. This book is a clarion call for parents across America to educate themselves about the risks of today's high-THC marijuana products and to better understand the potentially devastating effects on youth mental health. Laura's real-life story is backed by recent scientific-based research on how today's potent THC products lead to mental illnesses such as anxiety, depression, paranoia, psychosis, and sadly, suicidal ideation. This book is her vision to dramatically decrease adolescent marijuana usage, mental illness, and suicide, to allow our youth to live productive, happy lives.

PRAISE for The Dangerous Truth About Today's Marijuana

“As an enduring tribute to her son, Laura Stack has pulled together an invaluable analysis of the common misconceptions surrounding marijuana which led to his eventual downfall. Marijuana is a large part of the minefield that all teens must navigate in today’s world before they reach adulthood, a sobering reality that parents need to see clearly in order to help their children survive and thrive. This book provides a solid framework to assist in that process while making ample use of references to the best and most relevant scientific literature out there.”

– Christine L. Miller, PhD, Neuroscientist
MillerBio, Baltimore, Maryland

“Laura Stack has constructed a beautiful legacy for her son, allowing Johnny’s story to help guide the actions and decisions of other teenagers and families. Laura has long had an unmistakable passion and gift for writing; it’s no mistake that she has created such a seamless blend of personal narrative and empirical science. If you do your family the favor of reading this book, you’ll come away with all the tools and information you’ll need to protect your children from the ever-increasing social pressures of marijuana normalization. Your time could not be better spent.”

– Aaron Weiner, PhD, ABPP, Licensed Clinical Psychologist
Board-Certified in Counseling Psychology (ABPP) and Master Addiction Counselor (MAC), Lake Forest, IL

“This is a remarkable book with a powerful message for parents about the devastating and unpredictable negative consequences of marijuana use for some youth. It is also a passionate story of the painful struggles families often have trying to help youth who are addicted to marijuana and other drugs. A wake-up call in the face of widespread denial of the serious adverse consequences many people suffer from marijuana use, this book sends a powerful message to parents about the importance of helping youth grow into adulthood drug-free because of the unique vulnerability of the adolescent brain to the chemical seduction of drug use.”

– Robert L. DuPont, MD, President, Institute for Behavior and Health, Inc.
First Director, National Institute on Drug Abuse; Second White House Drug Chief

“Laura and John’s brave account of their son’s devastating tragedy serves as a warning sign and a critical call to action for all who love and care for young people. Their story illustrates how the foe we face rides on the wheels of capitalism and runs over our children. When regulation and consumer protection are absent, we need ambassadors to arm our children with neurodevelopmental science and empower parents’ voices. Thank you, Laura, for sharing your story and for starting Johnny’s Ambassadors.”

– Crystal Collier, PhD, LPC-S, Therapist, Researcher, Educator,
BrainAbouts Prevention Program Creator & Director, Houston, Texas

“This is a powerful book for everyone; parents, grandparents, and young people should read it. Written from the heart of a mother, Laura Stack, who has transformed her immense pain from losing a son into something extremely valuable for everyone. The message is clear: strong cannabis risks mental well-being and can even lead to fatality, as it sadly did in her son Johnny’s case.”

– Atakan, MD, Senior Cannabis Researcher
King’s College, London, UK

“Laura Stack is a new and powerful voice on this important subject. She is knowledgeable, passionate, and sensible—a rare combination in this space. Laura has taken the time to be educated, and she is using what she knows to impact lives. While many will focus on the tragedy of her story, I see her words and actions as a beacon of light, shining to help others find their way through the dark. Laura and her family’s true legacy is sharing Johnny’s story to keep them from following his path.”

– Ben Cort, CEO, the Foundry
Author, Weed, Inc., Steamboat Springs, CO
